

Kaleid planters

With the increased adaptation of activity-based work, offices are becoming more dynamic, energetic spaces; stimulating connection, collaboration, and culture. Designed by Webb Associates, Kaleid was created as a mobile element of Soft Architecture to help define space and support these exact needs. Just like a Kaleidoscope, Kaleid has the flexibility to move into different settings and configurations; giving the organization, team, and individual the tools to redefine what work looks like for them.

Crafted with the warmth of wood, Kaleid comes in multiple sizes and has options for media units, shelving units, self-watering planters, and more... all mobile and works seamlessly with our Ezel markerboard offering.
